To whom it may concern,

I am writing to provide a strong recommendation for Yiqu Yang's application to the visiting program at the Chinese University of Hong Kong. As an assistant professor at CUHK-Shenzhen in the School of Data Science, I had the pleasure of working with Yiqu during her undergraduate studies. She was an outstanding Undergraduate Student Teaching Fellow (USTF) in my linear algebra course (MATH2041) and also served as my teaching assistant for a semester.

Throughout our collaboration, I found Yiqu to be a highly motivated, intelligent, and hardworking individual. She consistently demonstrated excellent communication and leadership skills and was always willing to go the extra mile to help her peers and students. Yiqu has an exceptional ability to simplify complex mathematical concepts and explain them in an engaging and clear manner, making her an asset to any academic program. As a teaching fellow, Yiqu Yang demonstrated exceptional leadership and support in her role. She led discussion sections, graded assignments, and provided assistance to struggling students with confidence and empathy. Yiqu possessed a deep understanding of the course material and displayed excellent communication and interpersonal skills in her interactions with students. Her efforts as a teaching assistant received high praise from both the students and fellow instructors.

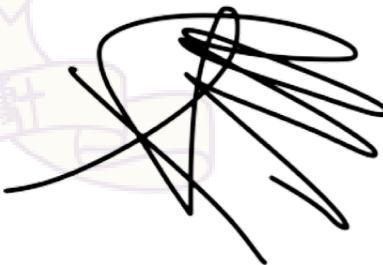

In addition to her teaching skills, Yiqu is an outstanding student with a strong work ethic, excellent problem-solving skills, and a passion for learning. She consistently excelled in her academic pursuits, maintaining a high GPA and receiving various academic honors, such as the AY2021-2022 Academic Performance Scholarship and SDS Dean's List. Yiqu's academic achievements, combined with her proven ability to work effectively in a team, make her an ideal candidate for a visiting program.

In addition to her academic achievements, Yiqu Yang has been actively involved in various extracurricular activities and community service projects, demonstrating her strong commitment to personal growth and development. Furthermore, she has organized several academic-related activities, showcasing her enthusiasm for sharing and exchanging knowledge with classmates. Yiqu's natural curiosity and desire to learn about different cultures make her an excellent candidate for any international program.

In conclusion, I have no doubt that Yiqu Yang possesses the necessary academic, intellectual, and personal qualities to excel in a visiting program at the Chinese University of Hong Kong. I wholeheartedly endorse her for this opportunity and am confident that she will make a positive contribution to your academic community.

Please feel free to contact me if you require any additional information or clarification.
